DEPARTMENT POLICY STATEMENT:

The counseling profession requires a high level of personal integrity, self-awareness, and personal maturity. Demonstrating professionalism in classroom behavior, as well as being present and engaged in classroom activities, is expected at all times as a graduate student in Counselor Education.

Students are expected to attend all class meetings; however, one absence is not considered excessive. Students whose beliefs, religious practices, or lifestyles may conflict with class attendance from time to time should discuss such issues with the course instructor at the beginning of the term. If possible, arrangements should be made to make up missed attendance-related assignments and experiences. It is up to the student and instructor to negotiate a satisfactory solution with respect to absences.

Students and faculty are expected to maintain an atmosphere in which controversial issues, germane to the subject matter, can be examined and discussed. In exercising this freedom of expression, faculty and students are expected to exercise appropriate restraint and show respect for the opinion of others.

The Counselor Education Department seeks to balance providing care and support, high expectations, and opportunities for participation in meaningful activities. All students are expected to participate in constructing a respectful learning environment in the classroom. Arrive to class on time, stay for the entire class, come back from breaks on time, turn off cell phones, etc. Be mindful of what might detract from the learning experience of students and faculty alike (e.g., talking to fellow students during lecture).

All students in the Department must demonstrate behavior that is consistent with the Ethical Standards put forth in 2005 by the American Counseling Association:

<http://www.counseling.org/resources/ethics.htm>

Failure to do so can result in termination from the program.

Demonstrating effective ethical and professional conduct is extremely important and will be monitored and reviewed by the faculty throughout your time in the program in order to assess your development as a professional counselor. Formal occasions for feedback in this regard occur following First Year Student Reviews (May of each year) and during Practicum and Internship. Concerns and deficiencies will be brought to your attention and used by faculty in assessing your overall academic/ professional progress in the Department. Deficiencies that are not corrected will be cause for disciplinary action that may include termination from the Department

GENERAL EXPECTATIONS

1. practicum students should observe other practicum students' counseling work in "down time"
2. "dress-up casual" for clinic attire
3. peer supervisors can/should serve as an alternate/backup observer during "down time"
4. everyone is to observe the 2005 ACA Ethical Code at all times
5. the Clinic needs everyone (including Peer Supervisors) in the clinic during the designated times; your service in the Clinic should be a priority and you should miss very rarely, if ever; leave a message if you cannot be here
6. Never take clinical materials out of the Clinic—strict confidentiality
Never send anything electronically (via email or the web) from the Clinic, or from home to the Clinic; safeguard your digital memory stick for confidentiality
